OCLC Number: (OCoLC)57177924 Subject: Aeronautics, Commercial -- Security measures -- United States -- Evaluation. Excerpt: . . . TSA developed draft procedures to document how opt-out program TSAs Internal Policies and applications will be processed. These draft procedures - for internal use Procedures for the Opt-Out only - describe opt-out program parameters, a descriptive narrative of the Program Are under application process, a matrix for each step in the process, an application Development template, sample notification letter template, an application checklist, and an application processing system template. TSA officials said that this approach is under review and expects the application procedures to be finalized in November 2004. TSA developed a draft activity-based cost study, which is also an internal document, not intended for public release. TSA plans to use the results of the study to explain how TSA will determine the unit cost of screening passengers in terms of the activities performed, review screening costs at both privately screened and federally screened airports in order to identify key cost drivers and best practices, and develop an efficient and repeatable data collection method for future studies. This study is currently under review within TSA. TSA expects to finalize this study later in November 2004. In addition, TSA developed a draft transition plan, which will serve as internal guidance for the agency and is not intended for public release. This is to be an operations plan designed to support TSAs efforts to transition airports from federal to private screeners. The plan is to address, for example, TSAs approach to giving federal screeners priority for employment with private screening contractors. In addition, this plan is to describe the roles and responsibilities of the TSA opt-out program office, FSD staff,...
