While the registration failed to reach 360, the entire country from St. Paul to Galveston and from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coasts was represented, and the tactful solicitude of not only the local committee but the industries and citizenry of Atlanta that every individual guest should enjoy every moment of his stay resulted in an occasion of which all who had the good fortune to participate will retain the most pleasant memories. Education Discussed At Charlottesville. The Virginia Section had arranged a joint meeting with the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education and the Virginia sections of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and the Richmond Chapter of the American Association of Engineers at Charlottesville for Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6. This was attended by the president and secretary and numerous members of the Council and Society en route to Atlanta. The sessions were held in Madison Hall of the charming old University created by President Jefferson. Friday morning was devoted to a conference, How to Organize an Engineering Problem, contributed to by Charles H. Fish, consulting engineer, of Boston; Prof. Joseph E. Rowe, of William and Mary College; E. W. James, assistant chief engineer, United States Bureau of Public Roads; and Prof. Charles Hancock, of the University of...
