Hen Red-breast. (To the boy.) Yes; I see you are admiring me: and indeed you are not singular. I am a very wonderful bird! Such a thing has happened to me! Just come a little way down the lane to my nest, and you shall see. There! did you ever in your life see a young robin so large as that 1 Be so kind as to come a little nearer, for it has the trick of opening its mouth so wide when my mate and I come near, that you can see little else, unless you look-closely: -- a little nearer if you please. There: I will get upon this thorn while you peep in. But soft! what have we here; you are treading on something that belongs to me. As sure as I am a red-breast, it is one of my own poor little robins that I left in the nest a few minutes ago; the poor pet has certainly tumbled out and been killed. I must speak to my large nestling, and beg her to be so kind as to take better care of the other little one. Stay! now you can have a good view of it. Quite a superior bird, you see: something not at all in the common way. The tail so long, and the colours very different from those of robins in general. I am sure my mate is extremely unreasonable not...
